Don't Ask Any Old Bloke for Directions Palden Gyatso Tenzing 2009-04-17 Exploring a karmic network in 25,320 kilometres After twenty years in the Indian Administrative Service, P.G. Tenzing throws off the staid life of a bureaucrat to roar across India on an Enfield Thunderbird, travelling light with his possessions strapped on the back of his bike. On the nine-month motorcycle journey without a pre-planned route or direction, he encounters acquaintances who appear to be from his karmic past: from the roadside barber to numerous waiters and mechanics—fleeting human interactions and connections that seem pre-ordained. Life on the road is full of pot holes in more ways than one, but Tenzing acquires a wheelie's sixth sense. He is unfazed by suspicious hotel receptionists or other unkarmic sceptics who take one look at his dishevelled, unkempt appearance and ask for an advance, or a deposit or both. Tenzing's views on life and death, friendship and love are informed by a certain dark humour. But his conviction that everything revolves around the sacred bond that humans share with each other and with the universe is deeply felt and inspiring. Sometime singer with a Gangtok band, a dabbler in vipassana meditation and a supporter of a monk's school at Mangan, Sikkim, P.G. Tenzing is self-confessedly at a mid-life crisis point and ready for all the adventures this world has to offer. Devil Mountain Thampy Antony Thekkek 2020-06-27 Bhuthatanukunnu, or Devil Mountain, is a small town in the central part of Kerala. There sits a small engineering college along with the precious memories of non-resident Indian, Ouso Joseph. Ouso is married and settled in California where he's lived for 25 years. Despite his happy marriage and life in California, Ouso finds himself comparing his current life in the USA with his past life in India.

Write Feelings Suresh Pattali 2020-07-11 News today is sensational, fast and often fake — attributes Suresh has been taught and trained to avoid. But there is a fourth attribute to news that journalists don't wear on their sleeves. It defies all stereotypical notions associated with the profession. Emotion, it is. Newsmen are reckoned to be detached and untouched. Almost Zen-like. They are the ones who can cover a gruesome tragedy and then head straight out to have a hearty meal. On many levels, the intrepid journalist is not much different from a beat cop: Both encounter the worst of mankind. Both are exposed to the scum of the world. Both put on a brave face, admirably reticent to tragedies and comedies. But beneath the façade, there is a beating heart — one that pines for that little girl who was raped and murdered; one that sobs for that beautiful woman whose husband was murdered by her own father; and one that prays for the safety of those twelve hapless boys trapped in a flooded cave in Thailand. Write Feelings is all about this. It brings out the emotion that Suresh had bottled up during four decades of his journalistic existence. These are words that the heart refuses to say out loud but gush out in the comfort of solitude. A cathartic release.

Down in the Valley, but Not Alone Leela Peakuzhimannil 2010-08-23
Down in the Valley, but Not Alone is the journey of a woman from the small remote village in Kerala, called Naranamoozhi (Na-ra-na-muoozhii), to the land of her dreams, America. It is the story of lost relationships, love, lust, betrayal, and loneliness. The journey is painful, but is it the story of courage and victory. This is the story of Leela, who came from this village fighting all odds to fulfill her dream. The journey was not an easy one. All the way, they were trials and tribulations; but in the midst of all these, she always experienced the presence of God lifting her up and leading her in the most wonderful way.

Mappila Muslim Culture Roland E. Miller 2015-04-27 This book provides a comprehensive account of the distinct culture of the Mappila Muslims, a large community from the southern Indian state of Kerala. Although they were the first Muslim community in South Asia, the Mappilas are little-known in the West. Roland E. Miller explores the Mappilas' fourteen-century-long history of social adaptation and their current status as a successful example of Muslim interaction with modernity. Once feared, now admired, Kerala's Mappilas have produced an intellectual renaissance and renewed their ancient status as a model of social harmony. Miller provides an account of Mappila history and looks at the formation of Mappila culture, which has developed through the interaction of Islamic and Malayali influences. Descriptions of current day life cycles, religion, ritual, work life, education, and leadership are included.
