Intelligent Systems Modeling and Simulation III Samsul Ariffin Abdul Karim 2024-09-21 This book continues the previous edition: Samsul Ariffin Abdul Karim (2022). Intelligent Systems Modeling and Simulation II: Machine Learning, Neural Networks, Efficient Numerical Algorithm and Statistical Methods, Studies in Systems, Decision and Control (SSDC, volume 444, 22k Access). After two years, Intelligent Systems Modeling and Simulation have evolved tremendously through the latest and advanced emergence technologies and many highly sophisticated algorithms have been developed by blending artificial intelligence (AI) and mathematics, statistics, data modelling and other related research areas. These blends offer many opportunities and further investigations into the overlap and equality between these areas. It is a well-known fact that most industries and companies have utilized this IR4.0 architecture in various levels of manufacturing and decision processes. Besides, nowadays IR5.0 or Society5.0 has also been embedded into various systems in industries as well as in Teaching and Learning (TL). The combination of IR4.0 and Society 5.0 may result in more impactful outcomes, especially in automated decision-making and reliable simulations-based modelling. Furthermore, IR4.0 and Society5.0 through Data-Driven have made a significant contribution to the government and companies to analyse big data via predictive analytics. Cyber security firewalls on all systems must be up to date to prevent any malicious attacks by hackers. Otherwise, our citizens might be scammed and according to NBC News, the total loss for 2022 is around USD 8.8 billion. These are very huge amount. Just recently, COVID-19 has been spreading all over the world again. To assist the Ministry of Health (MOH) and other government agencies, it is very crucial to identify, predict, detect and quarantine the COVID-19 on the susceptible persons soonest possible. Intelligent Image Processing techniques are very demanding here. This is to ensure that we can control and minimise the spread. Inspired by these latest developments, in this book, various experts in the areas of Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, Deep Learning, Neural Networks, Modeling and Simulation, Cyber Security and Awareness, Intelligent Statistical Methods, Big Data Analytics, Sentiment Analytics, Intelligent Function Approximation, Image Processing in medical imaging especially on COVID-19, AI in Teaching and Learning, and Computational Intelligence will share their latest studies and experiences. Their finding is in line with United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) such as No. 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure, particularly Target 9.4, 9.5, 9.a, 9.b and 9.c, No. 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities particularly Target 11.b and Indicators 11.b.1 and 11.b.2, and SDG No. 4: Quality Education; particularly Target 4.7 and Indicator 4.7.1. This book is highly suitable for postgraduate students and researchers to get the state-of-the-art current research directions as well as for the scientists that have an interest and working in intelligent numerical modelling and simulations through AI, Machine Learning, Neural Networks, and its related counterparts.

Handbook of Research on Developing a Post-Pandemic Paradigm for Virtual Technologies in Higher Education Loureiro, Sandra Maria Correia 2021-06-25 The COVID-19 pandemic has forced companies, institutions, citizens, and students to rapidly change their behaviors and use virtual technologies to perform their usual working tasks. Though virtual technologies for learning were already present in most universities, the pandemic has forced virtual technologies to lead the way in order to continue teaching and learning for students and faculty around the world. Universities and teachers had to quickly adjust everything from their curriculum to their teaching styles in order to adapt to an online learning environment. Online learning is a complex issue and one that comes with both challenges and opportunities; there is plenty of room for growth, and further study is required to better understand how to improve online education. The Handbook of Research on Developing a Post-Pandemic Paradigm for Virtual Technologies in Higher Education is a comprehensive reference book that presents the testimonials of teachers and students with various degrees of experience with distance learning and their utilization of current virtual tools and applications for learning, as well as the impact of these technologies and their potential future use. With topics ranging from designing an online learning course to discussing group work in an online environment, this book is ideal for teachers, educational software developers, IT consultants, instructional designers, administrators, professors, researchers, lecturers, students, and all those who are interested in learning more about distance learning and all the positive and negative aspects that accompany it.

A Case Study of a School Accreditation Journey. Focusing on How the School Community Cater to the Needs of Future-Orientated Twenty-First Century Learners Jonathan Kelly 2023-12-13 Doctoral Thesis / Dissertation from the year 2023 in the subject Pedagogy - School System, Educational and School Politics, grade: PASS, , course: EDUCATION, language: English, abstract: In the current literature, there is a lack of research information concerning the impact that the school accreditation process can have, including through the generated insights, and the potential transformational journeys, of a diverse group of stakeholders with a shared purpose. The Research Question of this study is: What is the impact of the NEASC accreditation process on meeting the needs of twenty-first-century students? The research offers unique insights, via a case study, of an Indian International School undergoing joint accreditation (Council of International Schools, New England Association of International School, and International Baccalaureate). As this was a case study, the sample size was 5. The researcher, as the school's Head of Design and Technology, and also a foreigner, remains close to the action of the participants, recording different insights of various stakeholders via anecdotal notes, regarding the effects and effectiveness of the accreditation process at the school. The study's focus is on investigating reflections on participating in an international school's accreditation process. While previous research often concentrated on external stakeholders' perspectives, this study emphasizes the views of internal stakeholders within schools. Unlike studies focusing on enrolment and learning impacts, this research explores the narrative perspective of the benefits of international school accreditation. Existing studies highlighted positive impacts on enrolment and mobility of programs, but the research community lacks an in-depth exploration of the narrative aspects of accreditation benefits. The researcher, being a stakeholder in the accreditation process, provides an internal perspective, addressing this gap in the literature. Although researchers have examined international schools over time, a problem that has yet to be addressed regards the insufficient research detailing the benefits of international school accreditation from a narrative perspective. A gap therefore exists both in terms of lack of literature and the adoption of a narrative methodology to solve the problem. Insights from the examination of studies in the field convey that many researchers opt to adopt an external perspective to examine how accreditation processes impact international schools.

Constructivism and Students with Special Needs Harris 1996-04 Two important issues are at the heart of intense debate and a number of reforms concerning today's schools. One of these is pedagogy -- the art of science and teaching. A second issue regards the goals of education. Although there is widespread agreement that education involves far more than rote learning, debate continues regarding what the goals of education should be and how they should be pursued. This special issue focuses on the implications of constructivism for students with special needs--including those with learning disabilities (LD)--particularly within the current movement toward inclusion. Contributing authors were asked to consider applied classroom concerns. A central issue identified throughout was the tension between maintaining authentic, meaningful context for learning emphasized in constructivist principles and providing the level of explicit instruction needed for all students to gain important skills and strategies. Contributors provide both exemplars of integrative instruction and careful consideration of multiple issues faced by educators and students alike as they move toward implementation of constructivist principles in diverse classrooms.
