Music and Poetry in Elementary Schools Joan King Holtzman 1948

The Impact of Literature-based Reading Donna E. Norton 1992 By the author of the pre-eminent text in the field of children's literature, this authoritative methods book offers readers a comprehensive treatment of literature-based instruction...including a research-based rationale as well as extensive, detailed guidelines for implementation.

Elementary Reading John N. Mangieri 1982 This book can serve as a valuable resource for individuals preparing to become teachers of reading as well as for those currently in service in the field. The authors have done a fine job in providing a straightforward explanation of reading instruction within the confines of the elementary school. The book's inclusion of time-tested techniques, sound theoretical content, and unique ideas can give a teacher an excellent knowledge base from which to provide exemplary reading instruction in the 1980s.

Look Ma, "Hands" on Poetry Adele Steiner 2008-05 The workshops in Look Ma, "Hands" on Poetry are designed to help teachers and poets familiarize elementary through high school students with a variety of creative and fun ways to engage their imaginations and write poetry. They do so by encouraging teachers and students to explore, together, the art of poetry; i.e., the art of employing the five senses to capture experience in language. The workshops also introduce young writers to a wide range of poets and the poetic techniques and styles that they have incorporated in their writing. As a result when students complete a series of workshops from this book, they will know how to write a poem. They may enjoy reading more poetry, too, because they will have a solid understanding of how poetry works. Finally, there are exciting ideas in Look Ma, "Hands," on Poetry for ways in which young writers can exhibit and perform their poetry. The workshops in this book run from 45-60 minutes with the time divided into three segments. In the first, the teacher reads and discusses poems that are examples of the types of poetry students will be writing. In the second, the teacher introduces the writing assignment and has students begin writing. Finally, students who finish poems are invited to share them in the remaining class time. Because poetry is the art of capturing experience in language, the workshops are structured around sight, smell, taste, touch, and sound. Each of the workshops in the first five chapters is geared toward exploring one of these senses, and the two later chapters contain workshops that require students to use all five to write their poems. As a result, workshops from each chapter may be used individually or in sequence to create one or two week poetry units that teachers and students can enjoy. Workshops in the book include the Sleight-of-Hand and Animal Mask Workshops wherein students use metaphor, simile, and personification to create imagery in poems. They use music and musical instruments to help them create sound and rhythm in the Native American, Chant, and Rap Workshops, and then they literally play with words to write Bingo and Multiple Voice Poems. Young people have opportunities to express their feelings through poetry in the Blues, Love Potion, and Ode Workshops; and finally, they use their five senses simultaneously when writing Bubble and Rainbow Poems and when they interpret paintings, sculpture, and music in Echphrastic Poems. The book's final section presents creative ideas for poetry readings, books, and displays. Suggestions for readings include the Poetry Cafe, which can incorporate any of the Coffee House, Tea Room, 1950's Diner, and/or Greco-Roman Garden venues discussed in this section. Student poetry books and chapbooks complete with student art and photos are described here, too, along with plans for poetry rainbows, sidewalks, mobiles, and poetry word collections.

New Designs for the Elementary School Curriculum John Udell Michaelis 1967 This volume reviews recent trends and developments in different areas of elementary school curriculum revolution, currently taking place. Special attention is given to materials prepared by curriculum project centers, recent curriculum guides, and professional textbooks with an eye toward a comprehensive and timely review. This volume is organized to be used in courses in elementary curriculum and curriculum planning for graduate students in the fields of curriculum, instruction, supervision, or administration. It can be used by in-service teachers for curriculum planning. It is hoped the theoretical framework used will be useful to others as they review new developments and work to improve the elementary curriculum.
