Puterea comunistă și exilul în oglindă Nicolae Merișanu 2008

Building Socialism, Constructing People Andrada Fatu-Tutoveanu

2014-11-19 This volume focuses on the issue of identity within the context of the radical shift that took place in Romania during the late 1940s and early 1950s, as a result of the process of Sovietisation, or “cultural colonisation” (a concept analysed in particular detail in this book). It adopts a novel approach to this theme, by studying the issue of identity within the context of the first decade of the Romanian communist regime, with the help of a series of concepts and theories belonging to the disciplines of Western cultural, media and gender studies, as well as those relating to colonialism and imperialism. Of particular interest to this volume is the use of the press as an essential instrument for Romanian propaganda in terms of spreading, as well as controlling, the new set of politically-established identity patterns. As such, the press provides one of the most relevant environments for the analysis of the major cultural, social and political identity shifts that took place in Romania during the late 1940s and the 1950s. The book follows the evolution, deconstruction and reconstruction of identity at both the micro- and macro- levels, focusing on some of the most significant identity pattern constructs in terms of reconfiguring cultural identities. The volume consists of a series of theoretical, as well as cultural, press analyses and case studies, based on a set of influential concepts and theories referring to identity, media discourse, and propaganda, in association with newly-introduced concepts such as “cultural colonialism” and cultural “canon” negotiation, amongst others.

Cold War Europe Tobias Nanz 2024-10-07 The Cold War is often stereotypically depicted as a period of complete separation between Eastern and Western Europe, a time of little communication and exchange between what is often called the “Eastern bloc” and the capitalist West. European integration, it is thought, was a Western project based on exclusively Western ideas. This edited volume aims to debunk this stereotype. It provides evidence for the numerous media and individuals that contributed to the circulation and exchange of ideas across the ideological divide of the Iron Curtain. The essays in this volume discuss the official and unofficial channels of communication between the Eastern bloc and the West as well as the complex networks of transmission and reception that enabled the exchange of ideas between the two. The first part of the volume examines the communication infrastructure of the Cold War and the role of then available communication technologies. The second hones in on how different media channels, and the radio in particular, were used to form and transmit ideas between East and West, whereas the third and final part looks at how individual artists and literary authors made their voices heard across the Iron Curtain.

Prizonier în închisoarea cărților Ion Cristoiu 2001-06-01 „Într-una din zile, m-am apucat să recitesc Maestrul și Margareta, a lui Bulgakov. Știu aproape pe de rost această carte. De atâtea ori am citit-o. Cu aceeași încântare temeinică, de vrajă, ca întâia oară. Îndrăgostiții născocesc fel de fel de pretexte pentru a-și întâlni femeia iubită. Cititorii împătimiți se supun și ei acestei legi tiranice. Ei caută mii de pretexte pentru a se întâlni cu cartea îndrăgită. Așa s-a întâmplat și cu mine. Am cumpărat de la o tarabă ceea ce coperta dezvăluia a fi ediția integrală a Maestrul și Margareta. Aveam în românește, de pe vremea lui Ceaușescu, ediția ciuntită, așa cum fusese ea publicată în URSS. Confruntate cu ediția franceză, de care făcusem rost, celor românești le lipseau câteva pagini. Ia să vedem cum sună noua variantă!, mi-am zis. Indiscutabil, era un pretext. Cusut cu ață albă, ca orice pretext invocat de un om atins de o patimă. Și m-am cufundat în lectură.” Din cuprins: De trei ori Gabriel García Márquez / Cum ne trage pe sfoară KGB-istul Putin / Surâsul triumfător al Mașei /Ce făcea alesul poporului, Petru Groza / Locotenentul Colombo nu l-a citit pe Dostoievski / O Vitoria Lipan de mahala / Cu cățel și cu purcel la Conferința de Pace de la Paris / Complexul Hyperion / Vocile lui Caragiale / Petru Dumitriu - un Balzac care l-a citit pe Proust / O ipoteză despre al doilea război mondial / Sovieticii au plecat din România abia în 1989 / Regele Lear la Târgoviște / Cine e responsabil de imaginea României în lume?

Literatura si propaganda in Romania lui Gheorghiu Dej Cristian Sandache O analiză a perioadei 1945-1965, cunoscută și sub denumirea de “obsedantul deceniu”, prin intermediul unor scrieri literare și ideologice revelatoare pentru atmosfera vremii, dominată de stalinismul pur și dur. Romane, piese de teatru, texte critice, culegeri de articole cu caracter agitatoric, volume de versuri. În paralel se urmărește evoluția intelectuală a unor scriitori, critici și activiști comuniști, confruntarea dintre dogmatismul stalinist și ulterioarele clarificări. Sunt comentate cu precădere textele ultradogmatice ale respectivilor.

Inventing the Jew Andrei Oisteanu 2009-05-01 Inventing the Jew follows the evolution of stereotypes of Jews from the level of traditional Romanian and other Central-East European cultures (their legends, fairy tales, ballads, carols, anecdotes, superstitions, and iconographic representations) to that of "high" cultures (including literature, essays, journalism, and sociopolitical writings), showing how motifs specific to "folkloric antisemitism" migrated to "intellectual antisemitism." This comparative perspective also highlights how the images of Jews have differed from that of other "strangers" such as Hungarians, Germans, Roma, Turks.
