Information Economy Report 2005 United Nations Conference on Trade and Development 2005 This new annual publication analyses current trends in information and communication technologies (ICT), such as e-commerce and e-business, and national and international policy and strategy options for improving the development impact of these technologies in developing countries. The report replaces the UNCTAD's E-commerce and Development Report series, redefining its scope to reflect the expansion of information economy and its key role in trade and development.

Hub Cities in the Knowledge Economy Ben Derudder 2016-05-13 The overarching research topic addressed in this book is the complex and multifaceted interaction between infrastructural accessibility/connectivity of city-regions on the one hand and knowledge generation in these city-regions on the other hand. To this end, the book brings together chapters analysing how infrastructural accessibility is related to changing patterns of business location of knowledge-intensive industries in city-regions. The chapters in this book specifically dwell on recent manifestations of and developments in the accessibility/knowledge-nexus, with a particular metageographical focus on how this materializes in major city-regions. In the different chapters, this shifting relation is broached from different perspectives (seaports, airports, brainports), at different scales (ranging from global-scale analyses to case studies), and by adopting a variety of methodologies (straddling the wide variety of methodological approaches currently adopted in human geography research). Researchers contributing to this edited volume come from different scholarly backgrounds (sociology, human geography, regional planning), which allows for a varied treatise of this research topic.

The Peer Power Playbook Srea Jones- Harrington 2024-06-18 "The Peer Power Playbook: A PRS Guide to Mastering Mental Health Support" is an essential guide authored by Srea Jones-Harrington, tailored specifically for Peer Recovery Specialists who are dedicated to playing a pivotal role in mental health recovery. This book serves as an indispensable playbook, empowering peers to fully embrace and excel in their influential roles. Authored by a passionate advocate for self-love, Srea Jones-Harrington brings her foundational principles of self-love to the forefront of mental health recovery support. This connection enriches the book's approach, providing a unique perspective on how self-love can significantly enhance the recovery process and foster deeper, more empathetic engagements with clients. Structured to address the challenges and opportunities inherent in peer recovery, the book covers a comprehensive range of topics. From understanding mental health disorders to mastering effective communication strategies and crisis management, it provides actionable advice and real-world solutions. Each chapter is crafted to build on the last, culminating in a robust framework for practitioners. "The Peer Power Playbook: A PRS Guide to Mastering Mental Health Support" is more than just a manual; it is a journey through the art and science of peer recovery. It equips readers with the tools necessary to support, inspire, and lead others in their journey towards mental health recovery, all while advocating for the indispensable role of self-love in healing. For anyone committed to making a significant impact in the lives of those they support, this book is a treasure trove of wisdom, strategies, and heartfelt guidance.

Trust and Trustworthy Computing Alessandro Acquisti 2010-06-29 This volume contains the proceedings of the Third International Conference on Trust and Trustworthy Computing (TRUST), held at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in Berlin, Germany, June 21–23, 2010. TRUST is a rapidly growing forum for research on the technical and socio-economic aspects of trustworthy infrastructures. TRUST provides an interdisciplinary forum for researchers, practitioners, and decision makers to explore new ideas and discuss experiences in building, designing, using, and understanding trustworthy computing systems. The third edition of TRUST welcomed manuscripts in two different tracks: a Technical Strand and a Socio-economic Strand. We assembled an engaging program with 21 peer-reviewed technical papers and nine peer-reviewed socio-economic papers; eight keynotes from industry, academia, and government; and panel discussions on privacy and standards. In addition, this year, TRUST was co-located with four workshops: Trust in Cloud, Hardware Security, Emerging and Future Risks, and Anonymous Signatures. We would like to thank numerous individuals for their effort and contribution to the conference and for making TRUST 2010 possible: the Organizing Committee members—Nadine Palacios and Marcel Winandy—for their tremendous help with all aspects of the organization; the Technical and Socio-economic Program Committee members, whose names are listed on the following pages, together with the names of external reviewers who helped us in the process of selecting manuscripts to be included in the conference proceedings; the keynote and invited speakers; and the invited panel speakers.

Passive and Active Measurement Oliver Hohlfeld 2022-03-21 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 23rd International Conference on Passive and Active Measurement, PAM 2022, held in March 2022. Due to COVID-19 pandemic, the conference was held virtually. The 15 full papers and 15 short papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 62 submissions. The papers present emerging and early-stage research in network measurements – work that seeks to better understand complex, real-world networked systems and offer critical empirical foundations and support to network research.

Internet Computing Ali Sunyaev 2024-08-27 The 2nd edition of this well-established textbook introduces the reader to the fundamentals of contemporary and emerging technologies and services in Internet computing. It covers essential concepts such as distributed systems architecture and web technologies, contemporary paradigms such as cloud, fog, and edge computing, the Internet of things, and emerging technologies like distributed ledger technologies and the InterPlanetary File System. The book also highlights the interconnection and recombination of these Internet-based technologies, which together form a critical information infrastructure with major impacts on individuals, organizations, governments, economies, and society as a whole. Intended as a textbook for upper undergraduate and graduate classes, it features a wealth of examples, learning goals and summaries for every chapter, numerous recommendations for further reading, and questions for checking students' comprehension. A dedicated author website offers additional teaching material and more elaborate examples. Accordingly, the book enables students and young professionals in IT-related fields to familiarize themselves with the Internet's basic mechanisms, and with the most promising Internet-based technologies of our time.
