

Diffusion Tensor Imaging A Practical Handbook

The activation enthalpy of diffusion can be separated into two components, one the enthalpy of migration (due to distortions) and the enthalpy of formation of a vacancy in an adjacent site. Diffusion equation: How does the concentration change at a given location and in time given that there are fluxes in the system? This is a partial differential equation which in practice ... Diffusion refers to the net spreading of the distribution of molecules due to random molecular motion. Think about an individual molecule in a gas, say some CO molecule coming ... At each time step, update concentrations based on reactions of molecules within a voxel, and diffusion between neighboring voxels based on concentration differences (i.e., the diffusion ... In this chapter the basic equation of molecular diffusion and simple applications are developed. The basic diffusion of matter, also called molecular diffusion, is described by Fick's law, first ...
