The Centurion Lounge, by American Express. An exclusive, technologically enhanced experience. Explore, relax and discover. Centurion is a term used to describe a military officer in ancient Rome who commanded a century, which was a unit of typically around 100 soldiers within a legion. Centurions play a role in the New Testament; Jesus performs a miracle for a centurion in Capernaum, centurions are present at the crucifixion, and in later years St. Paul is arrested by centurions. A centurion carried a staff made of a vine-branch, for disciplinary purposes. An urgent demand arose that the customary fees to centurions for granting furlough should be abolished, for they constituted a sort ... Centurion, the principal professional officer in the armies of ancient Rome and its empire. The centurion was the commander of a centuria, which was the smallest unit of a Roman legion. The concept of the centurion emerged during the early Roman Republic (509-27 BCE), when Rome's military was based on citizen-soldiers organized into centuries (centuriae), units of 100 men within the ... Generally speaking, a centurion was an officer in the Roman army. Each centurion commanded a unit of legionaries numbering roughly one hundred (hence the name).
