Neuroscience in Africa Nilesh B. Patel 2019-06-28 This Research Topic covers some of the latest research on brain and behavior in health and disease in Africa. With its untapped resources and unique situations, "Neuroscience in Africa" has the potential to contribute to a better understanding of human brain function both in health and disease. The diverse African fauna display a range of specializations in brain structure/function relationships as a result of adaptations to the environment. Exploration of these may lead to insights into coping strategies which could be extrapolated to humans. Africa's unique flora is being investigated for anti-inflammatory, antinociceptive, antioxidant, antiepileptogenic and neuroprotective properties to determine its potential for use in the treatment of human brain disorders. There is also research on neurodegenerative and infectious diseases, not only common to the global world, but also neglected tropical diseases and conditions which provide unique avenues of investigations in basic and translational neuroscience on highly debilitating disorders - and on the effects of pathogens and environmental toxins.

Outstanding Advances in Veterinary Diagnostic Ultrasonography: Novel Milestones in Disease Detection, Prediction, and Treatment Hussein M. El-Husseiny 2025-10-16 The field of veterinary diagnostic ultrasonography has seen significant advancements in recent years, becoming an essential tool in the diagnosis and treatment of a wide range of animals. This technology has proven superior to conventional radiography in visualizing internal organs and diagnosing various conditions.

Furthermore, it has been instrumental in tracking organ structure and function in both health and disease states, as well as assessing the progress of post-surgical healing. Despite these advancements, there is still a need for further investigation into the potential of ultrasonography, particularly in the realm of early disease detection and prediction. The primary aim of this research topic is to shed light on the current progress and potential applications of diagnostic ultrasonography in veterinary practice. This includes exploring its use in the diagnosis and monitoring of various conditions in large, small, laboratory, wild, and domestic animals. The research will also delve into the use of novel technologies in ultrasonography, with a particular focus on their role in the early detection and prediction of cardiac diseases. This could potentially aid in the development and evaluation of timely therapeutic protocols, thereby reducing mortality rates.

fully dedicated to the latest scientific and technological developments in the field of miniaturized devices and chemical and biochemical analysis but also synthesis. The first /JTAS meeting was held in Enschede in 1994 with approximately 160

participants, bringing together the scientists with background in one workshop. We are grateful to Piet Bergveld and Albert van den Berg of MESA great efforts to arrange this exciting first meeting. The policy of the meeting was succeeded by late Prof. Dr.

Michael Widmer in the second meeting, /JTAS'96 held in Basel with 275 participants. The first two meetings were held as informal workshops. From the third workshop, /JTAS'98 (420 worldwide conference.

Participants continued to increase in /JTAS2000 (about 500 participants) held in period from 130 in 1998, 230
