Industrial & Engineering Chemistry 1929

Financial Management James Oscar McKinsey 1922

Managerial Economics Lila Jean Truett 1998 Designed for a one-semester course at the undergraduate or MBA level in managerial economics, this text also works well as a text/reference for a second course emphasizing cases. Managerial Economics takes a traditional neo-classical approach to managerial economics. It is a proven book with a reputation for concise and clear writing, correct presentation of economics, and outstanding end-of-chapter problems and cases. Its tried-and-true problem-solving approach helps students see how managers can use economic analysis to solve business problems and make better decisions.

Credit and Financial Management 1913

Bulletin of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching 1918

Foundations of Financial Management Stanley B. Block 2008-10

Foundations of Financial Management is a proven and successful text recognized for its excellent writing style and step-by-step explanations to make the content relevant and easy to understand. The text's approach focuses on the "nuts and bolts" of finance with clear and thorough treatment of concepts and applications. There is a strong real-world emphasis presented throughout. This text has definitely stood the test of time due to the authors' time, energy, and commitment to quality revisions. In addition to completing the textbook revisions, the authors also revised ALL end of chapter problems and complete the solutions themselves. Block/Hirt/Danielson know what works and what doesn't work for students, and they have consistently maintained a high quality textbook that is responsive to the demands of the marketplace.

Financial Issues and Millennials' Partnered Relationships

Satisfaction Dr. Wisler Antoine 2020-11-06 The purpose of this study is to establish the relationship between financial issues and millennials' partnered relationships satisfaction. Furthermore, in the analysis of this topic, there are three main financial issues being discussed. These financial issues are the following: financial management, financial problem, and financial distress. These were used as the determining factors in assessing the level of satisfaction for millennials' partnered relationships. The quantitative method was used in this study; by carefully selecting 385 participants whose ages range from 25-36 years old. Provided that they had stayed together for at least three years, these millennial participants were randomly picked from the United States of America (USA). In the course of this study, variables including their gender, educational level, and income, were the primary focus. The results revealed that 90% of the selected millennials' in partnered relationships, (who did not adopt the policy of financial management), ended up having financial problems which eventually led them into financial distress. From the results obtained, it was concluded that in order for the millennials (in partnered relationships) to have a successful financial satisfaction, they have to and ought to know how to manage their finances well. Managing one's finances efficiently would definitely help in reducing our financial problems, which in turn might reduce financial distress, and the couples can enjoy a high level of financial satisfaction with their relationships.

Advances in Business Financial Management Philip L. Cooley 1996

Forty-eight articles, drawn from 25 financial journals, report recent advances in finance. They focus on concepts rather than methodology and are intended to be used to supplement introductory level casebooks and finance survey textbooks. Topics include business financial management and its environment, valuations and the cost of capital, capital budgeting, managing working capital, analyzing and planning financial performance, and institutional features of long term financing.
