Maud and Sara Richards lived in a cotton mill town in the foothills of the Rossendale Valley Lancashire their parents wanted to give the two sisters the best opportunity they could have there parents had sacrificed a great deal to give them the best education possible. After fulfilling their education Maud went into the world of teaching that had always been her dream she then meets a solicitor called John Howard she was in love with him, it was the perfect marriage or so she thought. For Sara, it took her sometime to realise her potential as she was head over heels in love with Tommy Foster who was from the wrong side of the track with a bad reputation, however, she eventually joins the Royal Navy for adventure and excitement only to become entangled with a Dave Phillip who liked to be in control. For the girls their journeys takes them into a sordid world of deceit and danger.

Hell's Foundations Geoffrey Moorhouse
2011-11-03 There is no shortage of books on the ill-fated Gallipoli campaign of 1915 but this one stands out. In it Geoffrey Moorhouse moves the focus from the more familiar aspects to concentrate on one small mill town, Bury, in Lancashire, and to anatomize the long-lasting effect the Dardanelles had on it. Bury was the regimental home of the Lancashire Fusiliers. In the Gallipoli landings of 25 April 1915 it lost a large proportion of its youth. By May 1915, some 7,000 Bury men had already gone to war, to be followed by many others before Armistice Day. More than 1,600, from just three local battalions of the Fusiliers were among those who never returned. The regiment left 1,816 dead men on Gallipoli alone: it lost 13,642 soldiers in the Great War as a whole. This terrifying sacrifice left its mark. Bury commemorates Gallipoli on a scale similar to Anzac Day in Australia and New Zealand and yet as the Second World War approached, recruitment to the regiment fell far behind that in other Lancashire towns. 'Hurtles one from rage and cynicism to involvement and tenderness . . . Moorhouse offers one of the most fascinating revelations of the orthodox British spirit, religious, political and social . . . This book makes wonderful reading.' Ronald Blythe,

Sunday Times 'A fascinating new approach to this tragedy . . . Moorhouse's contribution (to the bibliography of Gallipoli) is of quite outstanding value.' Robert Rhodes James, The Independent 'A subtle and moving exploration of the way that memories of slaughter and loss shaped the town's post-first world war identity.' Terry Eagleton, New Statesman
