Modern Accountancy Vol-1 Mohamed Hanif Accountancy M. Hanif 2020 The measurement and processing of a company's financial information is under the domain of accounting. Accountancy and Business Management, Vol. 1 (Classic Reprint) Harry Marc Rowe 2015-07-09 Excerpt from Accountancy and Business Management, Vol. 1 The course of study provided in "Accountancy and Business Management," and in the laboratory practice units which accompany it, is based to some extent upon the author's previous work, "Rowe's Bookkeeping and Accountancy." However, a number of important changes in the teaching plan and in the selection and arrangement of subject matter make the present course of study substantially a new and original work. The most important new features are: (a) An Introduction to Bookkeeping at the beginning of the text, in which the fundamental concepts of accepted accounting principles and business operations are presented in an exceedingly simple and logical manner. (b) The opportunity provided throughout the course of study for teaching by the class method when this method is preferred. The teaching plan is so classic, however, as to permit the instructor to exercise his personal preference and judgment as to methods of presentation. (c) A minimum use of the reference feature contained in the author's former works, with no references to topics other than those under immediate consideration. (d) The separation of the material of the text into consecutive parts to correspond with the material in the laboratory practice units. Each part of the text and the accompanying practice unit can be completed in one semester in the high school, or in the equivalent of that time in commercial and other schools. (e) The laboratory units are relatively short and can be completed in about one-half of a semester, or the equivalent of that time in the business school. They contain fewer routine bookkeeping transactions, less detail and repetition in office practice matter, and consequently fewer business papers and forms. Emphasis is placed upon principles and the more constructive features of accounting practice. (f) The inclusion of lessons in business management based upon the transactions in the laboratory units. These lessons are really brief lectures on business management and administration which emphasize, as does the text, the ultimate aims of the study of accountancy and the more enduring educational benefits to be derived from it. Throughout the course the principles and practices of the subject and the various steps taken in the entire cycle of accounting procedure have been developed as topics for study and recitation on the lesson unit plan to the extent that the subject permits of this method of treatment. The practice exercises following About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
