The New Penguin Dictionary of Modern Quotations Robert Andrews 2003-10-30 The New Penguin Dictionary of Modern Quotations contains over 8,000 quotations from 1914 to the present. As much a companion to the modern age as it is an entertaining and useful reference tool, it takes the reader on a tour of the wit and wisdom of the great and the good, from Margot Asquith to Monica Lewinsky, from George V to Boutros Boutros-Galli and Jonathan Aitken to Frank Zappa.

Safe as Houses Margaret Drabble 1990 Part of the "Counterblasts" series, a series of polemical broadsides, this is an examination of home ownership and mortgage tax relief. The author examines the ascendancy which property and property-ownership has gained through the policy of the government over the last ten years.

Media Review Digest C Edward Wall 2005-08

Number 10 Sue Townsend 2003 "Edward Clare, England's Prime Minister has a problem. This once popular political leader has fallen out of public favor for failing to know the price of a liter of milk."

"Determined to get back in touch with the common man he sets out to tour Britain, accompanied only by Jack Sprat, the bobby who usually guards Number 10, Downing Street, the official residence of the Prime Minister. And what better disguise than to go in drag?" "The odyssey begins in Edward's childhood home city, Edinburgh, and ends in Jack's mother's house in Leicester. It is a journey across social and political barriers that ultimately impacts world affairs as well as their own lives."--BOOK JACKET.

Book Review Index 2004 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation.

Number Ten Sue Townsend 2004-02-01 Behind the door of the most famous address in the country are Prime Minister Edward Clare and his wife, Adele Floret-Clare (voted the cleverest woman in Europe; author of the bestseller 'God Is A Lesbian'). PC Jack Sprat is the policeman who stands outside on the door. Voted into office five years ago after a landslide election result. Edward Clare finds that things are starting to go wrong. The love has gone. The people are turning. All he wants is for the people of Clare's Britain to like him, and for them to be happy. Enlisting the help of Jack Sprat, Edward travels around the country incognito to find out what the nation really thinks...

Number Ten Sue Townsend 2002 When The Prince of Wales bought Highgrove House in 1981 the surrounds consisted of a brown path which ran around the house, a lawn and a few thorn bushes. Twenty years later, he has transformed the land adjoining the house into several exquisite gardens which embody his gardening ideals and organic principles. With help from some of Britains finest designers, including The Marchioness of Salisbury, Rosemary Verey, Miriam Rothschild and Sir Roy Strong, the Prince of Wales has created highly individual gardens which have now, with his own ideas, reached maturity. The Prince of Wales describes the thinking behind each garden, the mistakes and the triumphs, and his plans for the future. Lavishly illustrated with photographs which capture both the scope and detail of each garden, this is a book which will delight and inspire both gardeners and horticulturalists at every level.

Poll Tax Douglas Dunn 1990 The author speaks out against the introduction of the Community Charge or Poll Tax into both Scotland and the rest of Britain, arguing that it is not only unfair, but also anachronistic and inefficient. He draws his information from what is currently happening in Scotland.

New Statesman 2002-10

Parliament Adam Lively 1990 This critical overview of the British democracy argues that our notion of parliamentary sovereignty is unfair and irrelevant and is unable to deal with the environment, the international economy and world peace. The author has also written two novels, "Blue Fruit" and "The Burnt House".

Descendants of John McCabe (1727-1800) of Sussex County, Delaware Vernon Wesley McCabe 1987

Venus Envy Adam Mars-Jones 1990 Focusing on Martin Amis and Ian McEwan, the author examines the dilemma facing the 1990s male. He argues that these two authors, beset by obsessions about paternity in the post-nuclear age, sum up the way the image of the modern man is distorted to present its more reputable aspects.
